

WINE LIST

MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

Merchi
as unique as you

OUR PHILOSOPHY

As always at Mirihi we aim to offer you unrelenting quality in our own 'Mirihi style' – as unique as you.

To assemble a wine list is a delightful but also challenging task because the world of wines is almost limitless. Therefore, our wine list is never ending. As the wine itself, it is “alive” and we are constantly looking to improve and update it. For the moment we sought out an award-winning selection of wines from all over the world.

In compiling our wine list, it was of outmost importance for us to offer something suitable for everyone.

From celebratory champagne to deep ruby reds, whatever you like and for whatever occasion.

Please note that the vintages may vary or have been replaced by the subsequent year.

Enjoy our Mirihi wine experience!

Shane Barry

Food and Beverage Manager

What is the definition of a good wine?
It should start and end with a smile.

We have listed our wines by the main grape varieties specialties in the first part and the second part with our specialties – those are wines and wineries that we find deserve a special recognition and are available in a limited allocation only.

You will also find some pairing recommendations and small tasting notes to each wine, to help you find a 'good drop' that matches your taste.

And in case you have any questions or wishes you are always welcome to ask.

CHAMPAGNE

RUINART REIMS

Ruinart is the oldest established Champagne house, exclusively producing champagne since 1729. The Chardonnay grape is the very soul of all Ruinart Champagnes. We are proud to feature it as our exclusive House Champagne.

'Why do I drink champagne for breakfast?
Doesn't everyone?'

Noel Coward

'I drink champagne when I am happy and when I am sad.
Sometimes I drink it when I am alone.
When I have company I consider it obligatory.
I trifle with it if I am not hungry and drink it when I am. Otherwise
I never touch it – unless I am thirsty.'

'Champagne is one of the elegant extras in life'
Charles Dickens

🔹 Prestige Cuvées (Tête de Champagne) represent the pinnacle of Champagne. They are the result of a favorable vintage (not produced year-in year-out), even stricter selection than for the straight vintage wine and great care in the cellar.

'Come quickly, I am tasting the stars!'
Dom Pérignon

LOUIS ROEDERER REIMS

Louis Roederer, a wonderful family-owned Champagne house founded in 1776, has a tremendous reputation for quality. The famous Cristal was created in 1876 at the request of the Russian tsar Alexander II.

DOM PÉRIGNON

Dom Pérignon was first produced in 1921 (and released in 1936) in honor of its legendary namesake as the prestige cuvée of the Champagne house Moët & Chandon. Today, it stands on its own as a separate label, renowned for producing exemplary vintage-only Champagne in only the very best years. Dom Pérignon has long been considered among the upper echelon of luxury Champagne, and its consistency from bottle to bottle and vintage to vintage is virtually unparalleled—you simply won't find a bad bottle.

Dom Pérignon ^{Brut} 2008

Pinot Noir, Chardonnay

Great complex champagne, full bodied, elegant and polished. Citrus at the start, develops into toast, yeast, brioche, butter, and cream. High minerals, grapefruit and biscuit on the palate. Smooth, clean, and tense. Big length, integrated acidity, perfect balance and properly aged to deliver maximal enjoyment.

535

CRISTAL

Cristal was first created by Louis Roederer for Alexander II in 1876. As Russia became less stable and Alexander feared assassination, he commanded that his Champagne be bottled clear and with a flat bottom to ensure no bombs were placed in the punt beneath the bottles.

Louis Roederer Cristal ^{Brut} Millésimé 2013

Chardonnay

Pale gold in color. Attack of pear and cabos along with complex aromas of yeast, butter, green olive, rush, cassis and brown sugar. The palate is fresh and tart yet soft edged. Very fine bubbles with smooth, long lasting finish.

1750

Louis Roederer Cristal Rosé ^{Brut} Millésimé 2013

Chardonnay, Pinot Noir

The balance, complexity and the intensity are outstanding. Really creamy mousse, well-balanced, lively acidity, long finish.

SPARKLING WINES

MÉTHODE CHARMAT

Another production method for sparkling wines, besides the classic Méthode traditionnelle (used for all Champagne), is the Méthode Italiano or Charmat method, where the second fermentation occurs in a tank. Some winemakers prefer to use this method because their goal is a more fresh and fruity sparkling wine.

RIESLING

The Riesling is considered as one of the most noble grape varieties for wine making. The Riesling vine likes to grow in cooler conditions and produces wines with a distinctive vibrant acidity, agile fruitiness and the ability to reflect the terroir. In addition because of its higher acidity it is suitable for long ageing process. The wines usually show fresh fruit flavors like lemon, white peach and green apple.

SYRAH / SHIRAZ

This grape is known as „Syrah“ in France and mostly „Shiraz“ in the New World. It is thought to be named after a city in Persia where it probably originated. Generally, wine made of Shiraz is rich and of intense color and flavor. In warmer climates, the grape often produces wines that are sweeter and riper in taste. In cooler climates, such as in the Rhone Valley of France, the wine often shows more pepper and spice.

SPECIALTIES

ITALY

Tuscany is one of the wine regions that give some of the most important reds in the world. It is a region full of tradition, but in continuous evolution since the introduction of international grape varieties and the use of French barrels that became common in the seventies. Beginning the 80's, the Super Tuscans marked a new age.

FRANCE

France, the home of Bordeaux, Burgundy and Champagne is arguably the world's most important wine-producing country. For centuries, it has produced wine in greater quantity – and of reportedly greater quality – than any other nation. Wine is ingrained in French culture at almost every level of society; the elite and the common people.
